PERSONAL PROFILE

I am a young enthusiastic, reliable, responsible and a trusted hard-working person. Not only organized, focused and result-driven but I am also gifted with an analytical and creative mind that takes on difficult situations with ease.

I constantly remind myself never to do less than my best, regardless of the nature of the task at hand. My work performance is driven by certain core pillars of virtue ethics, as in: Trust; Honesty; Integrity, Professionalism and Respect for others, especially to my co-workers, my employer and its business.

OBJECTIVE

To appreciate life, and know that it is the greatest of all gifts given to me. Thus, to show that appreciation, I must live this life responsibly starting from this early age by consciously making the right decisions that will build up the strength of my character so that combined with my formal education, I can be of great value to my family, employer and my country.
